About Hiyoshiya

As the only long-established store specializing in the traditional craft of ‘Kyo Wagasa’ (Kyoto-style Japanese umbrellas), Hiyoshiya has been preserving traditional techniques and crafting wagasa for well over one hundred sixty years.

In recent years, guided by the belief that "tradition is continuing innovation," we have been creating refined designs and interior products that highlight the exceptional structure and timeless beauty of wagasa, allowing them to shine in everyday life.

We invite you to experience the gentle warmth and delicate beauty that only handcrafted creations can offer.

Hiyoshiya -KOTORI-

How can we share the beauty of Kyoto-style wagasa—the gentle sunlight filtering through washi paper and the intricate geometric patterns formed by bamboo ribs—with a wider audience? Through years of exploration, we arrived at the concept of ‘Hiyoshiya-KOTORI’ lighting.

Blending natural materials with refined Japanese aesthetics, this modern expression of functional beauty blends seamlessly into both traditional Japanese architecture and contemporary interior design. It enhances any space with a timeless elegance that transcends generations.

WAGASA Light

The 'WAGASA Light' was born from the 'Inspiration of Kyoto' project, where Kyoto artisans collaborated with European designers to develop innovative products and materials — a project in which Hiyoshiya took part.

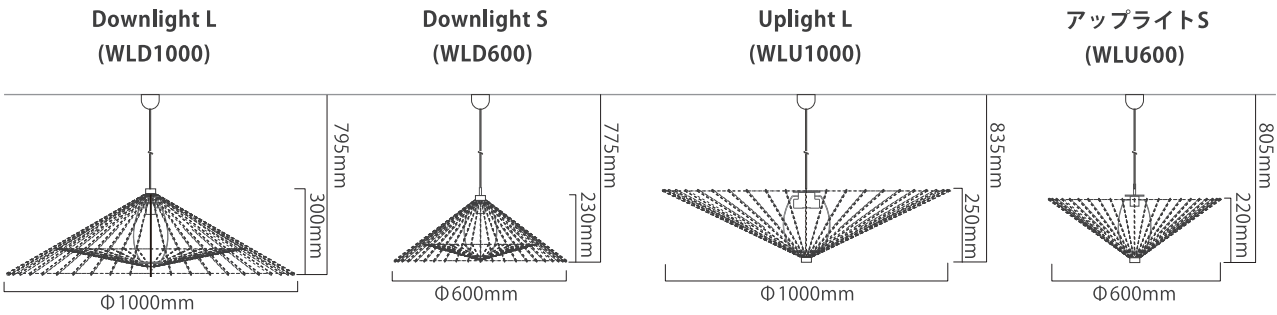

In partnership with the esteemed French design duo 'Garnier et Linker', the collaboration highlights the timeless beauty of the traditional Japanese umbrella, a form perfected over more than a thousand years. With precisely calculated bamboo rib angles and hand-made washi paper, its conical silhouette is reimagined for contemporary interiors. Enjoy the refined elegance of the WAGASA in a new light!

COCOON Light

The 'COCOON Light' is a Japan-exclusive pendant light, created in collaboration between Paris-based artisan and designer Céline Wright and Hiyoshiya. During her time in Kyoto, Céline became captivated by the beauty of Japanese paper (washi), which combines both strength and lightness. Since then, she has created poetically rich works using washi. Inspired by the concept of the cocoon, the light, meticulously constructed with layers of washi, creates a soft, dynamic illumination that enhances any interior space.

MOTO

The Italian word 'MOTO' signifies movement. The innovative structure of this piece allows for the manual raising and lowering of the stainless steel ring at the bottom, which opens and closes the frame. This concept is inspired by traditional Japanese umbrellas crafted since the Edo period. By replacing bamboo and washi with steel and ABS resin, the design achieves a modern, stylish aesthetic. The skeleton structure, without fabric, emphasizes the beauty of the framework, creating a light and elegant form.

「bloom」 Kitchen Basket

A basket that utilizes the techniques of Kyoto's traditional umbrellas. When it opens, it resembles a flower in bloom. This item adds a touch of elegance to your living room, dining table, and everyday life.

Inspired by the geometric structure of the bamboo ribs of the traditional Japanese umbrella, it can be compactly folded and stored. Beautiful both in use or when closed, 'bloom' embodies the timeless beauty of a Kyoto umbrella.

Hiyoshiya × hachi market 「bloom」 Kitchen Basket

「bloom」 - Produced in collaboration with hachi market home furnishings

When not in use, 'bloom' can be folded compactly, displaying a beautiful presence as part of the interior decor. To open, simply hold the stand part and flip it over in the opposite direction, it will pop open like an umbrella. By placing items such as fruits or bread on the petal-like umbrella section, the stand becomes a handle, allowing you to carry it anywhere with ease.
